Updated Fall Crop Fact Sheets in Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin

SAINT PAUL, Minn., Sept. 2, 2014 — USDA's Risk Management Agency (RMA) announced updated crop fact sheets for cultivated wild rice, forage production, grass seed, mint, and wheat with a September 30 sales closing date in Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. To view the facts sheets, go to www.rma.usda.gov/aboutrma/fields/mn_rso/.

The crop fact sheets give a summary of the insured crop, causes of loss, insurance period, reporting requirements, important dates, coverage level, premium subsidies, prices, unit division, insurance plans, a loss example, and contact information. This can be a quick and useful tool for producers to gain knowledge about an insurable crop.

Crop insurance is sold and delivered solely through private crop insurance agents. Contact a local crop insurance agent for more information about the program. A list of crop insurance agents is available at all USDA service centers or on the RMA website at: www.rma.usda.gov/tools/agents/.
