(See Part 2, Par. 11A(3)). For crops, the practices are those determined by FCIC to be compatible with agronomic, weather, and other conditions in the area. Good farming and management practices will include replacing (or replanting for crops) damaged or lost agricultural commodities when allowable income from the sale of agricultural commodities will exceed the cost of replacing or replanting the agricultural commodity.

Inspection - An on-farm visit by the insurance provider's representative to verify the applicant/insured's underwriting information, amount of reported damage, cause of loss, complete a claim for indemnity, or perform a quality control review.

Insured Revenue - Income from the sale of agricultural commodities the insured produces, the sale of agricultural commodities the insured purchases for resale (the producer is not eligible for AGR coverage if the expected allowable income from agricultural commodities purchased for resale exceeds 50 percent of the total expected allowable income), and all other allowable income as defined in the AGR Policy.

Irrigated Practice - A method of producing a crop by which water is artificially applied during the growing season by appropriate systems and at the proper times, with the intention of providing the quantity of water needed to produce at least a normal irrigated yield.

Inventory (beginning) - A written record of the agricultural commodities the insured produced prior to the insurance year, but that have not been sold or otherwise disposed of at the beginning of the insurance year. This record must be supported by verifiable records. Any agricultural commodity that is under a futures contract with a buyer to be purchased during the previous insurance year at a price that will not be determined until the current insurance year will be considered beginning as beginning inventory. For example, if the insured executed a futures contract on June 30, 2000, with the price to be determined by averaging the first 10 days price for the agricultural commodity on the Chicago Board of Trade for the month of March, 2001, the beginning inventory for the 2001 insurance year will include the production or amount of the agricultural commodity under contract. The value will be determined as specified in Part 3, Section 27. (The example is for a calendar year tax filer.)

Inventory (ending) - A record of the agricultural commodities the insured produced prior to and during the insurance year, but that have not been sold or otherwise disposed of at the end of the insurance year. This record must be supported by verifiable records. Any agricultural commodity that is under a futures contract with a buyer to be purchased during the insurance year at a price that will not be determined until the subsequent insurance year will be considered beginning as ending inventory. For example, if the insured executed a futures contract on June 30, 2001, with the price to be determined by averaging the first 10 days price for the agricultural commodity on the Chicago Board of Trade for the month of March, 2002, the ending inventory for the 2001 insurance year will include the production or amount of the agricultural commodity under contract. The value will be determined as specified in Part 3, Section 27. (The example is for a calendar year tax filer.)

Lag Year - The tax year immediately prior to the insurance year. Tax documents for the lag year will generally not have been filed with the IRS by the sales closing date.

Limited Resource Farmer - A producer or operator of a farm, with an annual gross income of $20,000 or less derived from all sources, including income from a spouse or other members of the household, for each of the prior two years. Notwithstanding the previous sentence, a producer on a farm or farms of less than 25 acres (aggregated for all crops), where a majority of the producer's gross income is derived from such farm or farms but the producer's gross income from farming operations does not exceed $20,000, will be considered a limited resource farmer. (For example, a producer farming 20 acres with a total gross income of $39,000, of which $20,000 is farm income and $19,000 is off-farm income, is a limited resource farmer.)

Linkage Requirement - The legal requirement that a producer must obtain at least CAT coverage for any crop of economic significance as a condition of receiving benefits for such a crop from certain other USDA programs, unless the producer executes a waiver of any eligibility for emergency crop loss assistance in connection with the crop.

Local Market Value - The average price offered by buyers of the agricultural commodity being valued in the area where the insured normally sells that commodity as reported by the Agricultural Market News Service (the most recent publication prior to the date of valuation will be used). The value of any animal will not exceed the average price of the same breed and type being valued.

Planted Acreage - Land in which seed, plants, or trees are placed as appropriate for the insured crop and planting method, at the correct depth, into a seed bed that was properly prepared for the planting method and production practice.

Policy - The agreement between the insured and the insurance provider consisting of the accepted application, AGR Provisions, AGR Special Provisions Actuarial Documents, and the applicable regulations published in 7 CFR Chapter IV.

Qualifying Person - A person who is eligible to participate in the AGR program. [See Part 2, Section 11A(1)]

Revenue Report - The part of the Annual Farm Report that documents the insured's annual allowable income and allowable expenses. It records the AGR history for insurance purposes. The insurance provider must be able to verify accuracy of this report by use of IRS tax forms and when requested by the insurance provider, supporting written records that account for allowable income and allowable expenses for the applicable tax year.

Sales Closing Date - January 31, the date by which an application must be filed. The last date by which the insured may change his or her AGR insurance coverage for an insurance year. However, insureds may not increase their coverage level or payment rate if any cause of loss that could or would reduce their allowable income for the insurance year is evident prior to the time they requested the increase.

Secretary - The Secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Short Tax Year - A period of less than twelve consecutive months for which a taxpayer may be required to file a tax return.

Special Provisions - The part of the policy that contains specific provisions of insurance that may vary by geographic area.

Substantiated Farm Income Evidence - Farm income evidence such as warehouse receipts, ledger sheets, load summaries, settlement sheets, CCC loan documents, IRS farm tax forms, IRS Form 1099, sales tax reporting forms, IRS estimated quarterly tax payment forms, etc., showing the agricultural commodity, the names of sellers, the names of buyers, storer or marketing outlets, crop years produced, dates of the transactions, and dollar amounts of sales.

Substitute Tax Forms - If a person was not required to file Schedule F with IRS, and did not complete a Schedule F for any taxation year required for insurance purposes, that person must complete a worksheet providing the same farm business income and expense information as reported on Schedule F to be eligible for AGR coverage. Worksheets may be Schedule F's completed for AGR purposes and must be clearly marked to indicate that they were not filed with IRS.

Tax Year - The annual accounting period for keeping records and reporting farm income and expenses. The tax years used are (1) a calendar year or (2) a fiscal year.

Underwriting Review - A review of the applicant/insured's underwriting information by a person designated by the insurance provider (verifier or underwriter) who is versed in the AGR program and is proficient in the knowledge and skills necessary to evaluate the grower's request for insurance.

Whole Farm Unit - The insured's share of revenue from all agricultural commodities produced during the insurance year or purchased for resale during the insurance year.

Verifiable Records - Written records developed contemporaneously with the event recorded (such as harvested production, sale of an agricultural commodity, etc.), provided from a disinterested third party (such as a record from a warehouse, processor, packer, broker, etc.) or by measurement of farm-stored agricultural commodities.

Verifier - An insurance provider authorized by RMA to calculate approved AGR (amounts of insurance).

Waiver (Linkage) - An FSA document that, when signed by a producer, relinquishes that producer's eligibility for emergency crop loss assistance and satisfies linkage requirements.

Waiver (Administrative Fees) - A document that, when signed by limited resource farmers and approved by the insurance provider, exempts insureds from paying the administrative fee.

7 RESPONSIBILITIES

7A FCIC Product Development Division

- A(1) Establish the minimum standards and guidelines for administration, underwriting and loss adjustment functions.
- A(2) Unless otherwise specified, review and approve all insurance provider loss adjustment procedures and forms prior to their use.
- A(3) Provide guidance and clarification, as needed, regarding these standards.

7B Insurance Providers

- B(1) Comply with and implement the standards (requirements) established by FCIC, through procedures and forms approved by the Product Development Division, or as otherwise specified in writing by FCIC.
- B(2) Ensure that all documentation, determinations, and calculations are completed as specified in these standards.
- B(3) Provide input to FCIC regarding the standards.
- B(4) Advise FCIC of impending situations which may necessitate the development of procedures, forms, or calculations that are different from those identified in the standards issued by FCIC.
- B(5) Comply with other requirements issued by FCIC in the administration of contracts between the insurance provider and FCIC.
- B(6) Ensure that the required information is provided on the specific forms, printouts, or on a Special Report attached to the appropriate form, specified in approved standards and procedures.
- B(7) Determine whether contract provisions or requirements for AGR Insurance applies to the insured, and if so that they have been complied with.
- B(8) Approve requests for higher coverage amounts (65/90, 75/75, 75/90, 80/75, and 80/90), only for applicants/insureds who meet the additional underwriting requirements for the higher coverage.
- B(9) Calculate approved AGR's. The following responsibilities pertain to revenue reports received for verification. Verifiers must:
 - (9)(a) Perform an Underwriting Review. Entries on the Revenue Report are compared to the allowable income and allowable expenses on the supporting records. The Intended Agricultural Commodity Report and Report of Changes are also reviewed. The verifier assures that entries have been made according to procedure, all required entries have been made, and that prices reported for the commodities are reasonable when compared to average historic local market prices.

If the applicant/insured has produced any agricultural commodity fewer than two calendar years and the expected income from the agricultural commodity is more than 10% of the total expected income for the insurance year, the insurance provider may reduce the approved AGR by deleting the expected income indicated for the agricultural commodity. Any decision to reduce the approved AGR must take into consideration whether or not the agricultural commodity has similar inherent risk characteristics, management requirements, and production practices as the commodities that were produced for two or more years. If the expected income from such commodities exceeds 50% of the total expected income, the insurance provider may reject the application for the insurance year.

(9)(b) Update AGR databases for carry-over insureds.

(9)(c) Calculate and issue approved AGR's.

(9)(d) Verify AGR history for policies being transferred, by accessing the Policyholder Tracking System (PHTS) and reviewing previously reported AGR history that is available in the PHTS. All AGR history within the base period attributed to the insured must be used provided continuity of AGR history has been maintained. If there is a difference between the AGR history certified and prior AGR history available through the transfer process or PHTS, an underwriting review must be performed, and the correct data determined.

(9)(e) Notify insureds of changes to preliminary AGR's. [See Part 2 Par. 19A for preliminary AGR instructions] If the approved AGR is less than 95 percent of the preliminary AGR, the verifier will notify the insured of the change and of the approved AGR by certified mail (return receipt requested), or positively document the date that the insured was notified of the approved AGR and the method of notification used. The insured must be notified of a changed preliminary AGR no later than 25 calendar days from the issuance date of the approved AGR. Documentation of the date the insured was notified of the approved AGR must be available to verify timeliness of presentation of the approved AGR, request for reconsideration, or a request for mutual consent cancellation.

B(10) Perform Farm Report Audits. When selected for a Farm Report Audit, primary supporting records and other secondary supporting records (when required) that correspond to the tax year(s) certified on the current insurance year's Revenue Report must be reviewed and compared to the allowable income and allowable expenses reported. [Refer to Part 2, Section 16 for acceptable primary and secondary supporting records]. Farm Report Audits are conducted as follows:

(10)(a) Mandatory Farm Report Audits (Field Reviews) as required by the AGR Reinsurance Agreement including:

- 1 Random Reviews,
 - 2 All Insureds affiliated with crop Insurance provided under the ACT, and
 - 3 Other reviews as required by FCIC and the AGR Standards Handbook.
- (10)(b) Discretionary Field Reviews (or Inspections) for policies selected by the insurance provider:
- 1 For unusual/abnormal situations,
 - 2 To reduce program vulnerability (e.g., known tree or vine damage has occurred to perennial crops),
 - 3 To validate or determine inventories, or
 - 4 As a follow up to an office audit/Farm Report to verify questionable information.

7C Agents Are Responsible For:

- C(1) Explaining to producers the requirements to participate in the AGR program.
- C(2) Informing insureds of the additional underwriting requirements if electing a higher (65/90, 75/75, 75/90, 80/75, or 80/90) amount of coverage.
- C(3) Explaining revenue reporting and supporting record requirements to producers.
- C(4) Assisting producers in the completion of the Annual Farm Report and related AGR forms. When necessary, agents/representatives will assist producers in the filing of:
- (2)(a) Farm Reports.
 - (2)(b) Inventory and Accounts Receivable Report.
 - (2)(c) Agricultural Commodity Profile.
 - (2)(d) Notice of Loss.
- C(5) Calculating Preliminary AGR's. For new insureds, agents MUST compute, quote, and enter preliminary AGR's on the Revenue Report. Agents must explain to insureds that:
- (5)(a) A written request for reconsideration of the approved AGR or for mutual consent cancellation of the policy, may be submitted by the insured to the insurance provider if the approved AGR calculated by the verifier is less than 95 percent of the preliminary AGR.

(5)(b) A request for reconsideration or mutual consent cancellation must be made within 30 calendar days of the date the approved AGR was mailed or otherwise made available to the insured. If such requests are not filed timely, the approved AGR will be considered accepted.

(5)(c) During a reconsideration, insurance providers may correct errors in AGR computations or in the application of FCIC-approved procedures. Corrections will not be subject to additional reconsideration.

C(6) Informing insureds that mutual consent cancellations are not allowed for an insurance year subsequent to the insurance year the application was accepted (carryover policy) if they are not satisfied with the approved AGR.

C(7) Reviewing Farm Reports for completeness and accuracy and obtaining the insured's signature and date.

C(8) Obtaining records/documentation required for program participation and forwarding them to the verifier.

C(9) Explaining Approved AGR. Upon receipt of the approved AGR the agent/representative must be able to explain:

(9)(a) The approved AGR and coverage provided.

(9)(b) That failure to follow the approved Farm Report [Part 4, Par 34] may result in:

- 1 Reduced indemnities; however, premiums will be based on the approved AGR; or
- 2 A reduction in the amount of coverage, if it is discovered at the time of loss that the insured does not qualify for a higher amount of coverage (65/90, 75/75, 75/90, 80/75, or 80/90) if elected.

(9)(c) Any adjustments that were made to the preliminary AGR quotes.

C(10) Referring requests for field visits for inventory determinations (bin and storage facility measurements, etc.) to the appropriate insurance provider's representative. If necessary insurance providers will make farm visits to determine beginning or ending inventories.

7D Producers/insureds are responsible for:

D(1) Filing Annual Farm Reports. Insureds must report on an annual basis allowable income and allowable expenses from agricultural commodities for historical purposes, intended agricultural commodities for the insurance year, amount and expected allowable income from each intended commodity, and a report of planned operational changes (if any) for the insurance year by the sales closing date.

- (1)(a) Other documents which contain the same information as required by the Farm Report form may be used. If an insured provides such information by a means other than an FCIC approved AGR form, it MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY THE FOLLOWING SIGNED CERTIFICATION STATEMENT to be acceptable:

"I certify that the information I have furnished as reflected on this form is complete and accurate for the IRS tax entity, agricultural commodity(ies), and year(s) shown. I understand this form may be reviewed or audited and that information inaccurately reported or failure to retain records to support information on this form, may result in a recomputation of the approved adjusted gross revenue. I also understand that failure to report completely and accurately may result in voidance of my Adjusted Gross Revenue insurance contract and may result in criminal or civil false claims penalties (18 U.S.C. 1006 and 1014; 7 U.S.C. 1506; 31 U.S.C. 3729 and 3730)."

- (1)(b) Signing and dating the Farm Report to certify that the information provided is true and accurate. Such forms are not acceptable without the insured's signature and date or if filed after the sales closing date.

- (1)(c) Maintaining acceptable supporting records. Insureds must retain acceptable hard copy income and expense records for three insurance years after certifying the information for AGR purposes. A copy must be provided as requested for AGR field reviews, FCIC program compliance reviews, or when an indemnity is claimed. Reviewers are not authorized to assemble acceptable supporting records for insureds from other sources, i.e., tax accountants, packers, elevators, processors, & etc., this is the insured's responsibility. [Refer to Part 2, Section 16, Supporting Records, for a description of acceptable supporting records].

- D(2) Reviewing Approved AGR's. If the approved AGR is less than 95 percent of the preliminary AGR, the insured may request in writing reconsideration of the approved AGR, or mutual consent cancellation of the policy. [Refer to Part 1, Section 7, Par. C(5)].

- D(3) Providing Notice of Damage or Loss. Insureds must report any event that will result in a probable loss of covered revenue to their insurance provider through the agent servicing their policy. An insured must:

- (3)(a) Give notice of loss within 72 hours after the initial discovery that his or her allowable income for the insurance year could fall below the amount of revenue covered (approved AGR X the coverage level elected). Notice may be made by telephone or in person. Any notice not given in writing must be confirmed in writing and received by the insurance provider within 15 days of the original notice of loss. However, an insurance provider may not accept a notice of loss later than 15 days after the insured files his or her farm tax forms for the insurance year (Requests for extensions to file tax forms will not be considered a farm tax form.).

- (3)(b) Notify the insurance provider of any intent to abandon, dispose of, or destroy any agricultural commodity and obtain the provider's consent prior to taking such action. If consent was not given to abandon, dispose of, or destroy any agricultural commodity, and the insurance provider does not inspect the agricultural commodity within seven days after notification, the insured may take such action without the insurance provider's consent. If the insurance provider determines that expenses associated with the sale of an agricultural commodity would be greater than the allowable income from the sale, the insurance provider will not include the potential revenue when determining the revenue to count when calculating an indemnity.

D(4) Cooperating During Settlements and Investigations of Claims. The insured must:

(4)(a) Protect damaged agricultural commodities from further damage by providing sufficient care if the cost of such care will not exceed the value of the agricultural commodity; and

(4)(b) As often as reasonably required;

- 1 Allow the insurance provider to inspect the damaged agricultural commodity;
- 2 Allow the insurance provider to remove samples to determine the extent of damage; and
- 3 Provide the insurance provider with records and documents requested and permit the insurance provider to make copies.

(4)(c) Upon the insurance provider's request;

- 1 Provide a complete marketing record of each agricultural commodity; and
- 2 Submit to examination under oath.
- 3 Establish the total production or revenue received for all agricultural commodities.

D(5) Adequately Documenting Losses. If an indemnity is to be claimed the insured must furnish the following:

(5)(a) Proof that the loss of production or revenue was caused by perils covered under the AGR policy;

(5)(b) Documentation of the extent that the Farm Report was carried out;

(5)(c) A copy of applicable farm tax forms and any amendments for the insurance year and any additional documentation the insurance provider requires to convert the allowable income and expenses for the insurance year to an accrual accounting method;

(5)(d) An accurate record of inventoried agricultural commodities, if applicable. When applicable, the insured must provide verifiable records of:

- 1 Beginning inventories by January 31 of the insurance year if a calendar tax year is applicable or, if a fiscal tax year is applicable the last day of the month in which the fiscal tax year begins. An insured may request a field visit by the insurance provider to determine a insurance year's beginning inventory if necessary. Such requests must be made through the agent/representative.
 - 2 Any beginning inventory amount sold prior to completion of the claim, the date sold, and price received.
 - 3 Ending inventories. The applicable amount and value of inventoried agricultural commodities sold after the end of the calendar or fiscal tax year, whichever is applicable, prior to completion of the claim must be provided. If not sold or contracted at a specified price prior to completion of the claim and a price for the commodity is not available from the Agricultural Market News Service, the local market value(s) will be the average of the price offered by at least two commercial buyers, one nominated by the insured and one nominated by the insurance provider.
- (5)(e) An accurate record of beginning and ending accounts receivable for the insured's tax year, if applicable. Verifiable records of such accounts must also be provided.
- (5)(f) A completed claim for indemnity no later than 60 days after the insured files his or her farm tax forms for the insurance year. However, if the farm income taxes are not filed by the first day of the seventh month after the end of the tax year (July 1 for calendar year filers) immediately following the insurance year, the indemnity will be denied. The claim must include all the information the insurance provider requires to settle the claim.

8 INSURANCE CONTRACT INFORMATION

The insurance provider is to determine that the insured has complied with all policy provisions of the insurance contract. AGR policy determinations include (but are not limited to):

8A Insurability

- A(1) Insurance is provided against loss of revenue due to any unavoidable natural disaster that occurs during the previous insurance year or market fluctuation that causes a loss in the current insurance year. Exceptions are listed in 8B below.
- A(2) The insured revenue (allowable income) will be that which is normally obtained from the sale of all agricultural commodities produced or purchased for resale during the insurance year on the insured's whole farm unit. [See Part 1, Par 6, Definition, Allowable Income.]
- A(3) Insurance will attach only to the allowable income earned by the person(s) named on the application and will not extend to any other person having a share in the income from agricultural commodities produced or purchased for resale during the insurance year unless the application clearly states that the insurance is requested for an entity such as a partnership.

- A(4) Insurance is based on historic AGR information documented on the insured's farm tax form(s) and the insurance year's Farm Report.
- A(5) The insured must provide a Farm Report to the insurance provider on an FCIC-approved form (or other document containing the same information see 7D(1)) at the time of application the initial insurance year and by the sales closing date for subsequent years. The Farm Report must contain:
- (5)(a) The AGR history containing only allowable income and allowable expenses;
 - (5)(b) Copies of the insured's farm tax forms that were used to determine the AGR history;
 - (5)(c) An accounting of the allowable income the insured expects to receive on an agricultural commodity basis for the insurance year; and
 - (5)(d) Any changes to the farming operation. This includes intended changes in the agricultural commodities to be produced, size of the farming operation (expansion or contraction), insured's share, farming practices used to produce agricultural commodities, and market conditions/prices. Any damage to any perennial crop occurring prior to the beginning of the insurance year or any other condition that may reduce the insured's allowable income from previous levels must be reported.
- A(6) The AGR Policy is a continuous policy. Insurance coverage continues in force for each succeeding insurance year unless the policy is canceled, terminated, or voided as provided in section 2 of the policy.

8B Non-insurability

- B(1) Increased value added due to post-production operations is not considered allowable income and must be removed if gross income is reported for post-production operations. Costs incurred to obtain the added value is not covered. Costs that must be deducted include but is not limited to, costs incurred for the following post-production operations;
- (1)(a) Canning, freezing or otherwise processing (e.g., cheese, cider, salsa, etc.) the insured agricultural commodities, including the value of the labor required to perform such activities; or
 - (1)(b) Packing or packaging, including the value of packaging materials and labor. The cost of packaging materials must be removed, even though the product is not changed (e.g., boxes for lettuce, blueberry flats, etc.).
- B(2) Loss of revenue due to the following will not be covered:
- (2)(a) Negligence, mismanagement, or wrong doing by the insured, any member of the insured's family or household, tenants, employees, or contractors;
 - (2)(b) Failure to follow recognized good farming and management practices for each agricultural commodity;

- (2)(c) Water contained by any governmental, public, or private dam or reservoir project;
- (2)(d) Failure or breakdown of irrigation equipment or facilities;
- (2)(e) Failure to carry out a good irrigation practice, if applicable;
- (2)(f) Theft or mysterious disappearance;
- (2)(g) Vandalism;
- (2)(h) Inability to market the agricultural commodities due to quarantines, boycotts, or refusal of any person to accept the insured's agricultural commodities;
- (2)(i) Lack of labor to properly care for, harvest or perform any necessary production or post-production operations for any agricultural commodity;
- (2)(j) Failure of any buyer to pay the insured for agricultural commodities the insured produced;
- (2)(k) Failure to follow the requirements contained in any processor contract;
- (2)(l) Abandonment; or
- (2)(m) Failure to obtain a price for any agricultural commodity that is reflective of the local market value.
- (2)(n) For the year of application any losses that occur earlier than 10 days after the insurance provider receives the insured's properly completed application.

8(C) Unit Division None, the AGR policy provides for ONE unit per policy.

9 (RESERVED)

10 (RESERVED)

PART 2 UNDERWRITING

11 GENERAL UNDERWRITING RULES AND ADMINISTRATIVE REQUIREMENTS

11A Insurance Offer. Insurance is available ONLY to qualifying persons in pilot counties named in Part 1, Section 2, Par. A. The AGR Special Provisions include the pilot counties, coverage amounts, and AGR program dates such as sales closing and contract change dates. The AGR software is a part of the insurance contract.

A(1) Qualifying Person. To be eligible for AGR coverage the applicant/insured must be a person who:

- (1)(a) Is engaged in the business of farming and derives income from the production of agricultural commodities primarily within the AGR pilot counties but may also derive income from agricultural commodities produced in non-pilot counties that are contiguous to pilot counties;
- (1)(b) If insured as an individual, is a United States citizen or resident;
- (1)(c) If insured as a corporation, partnership, or trust is permanently established in the United States and files either a Schedule F or submits other tax forms that contain the same information that is provided on the Schedule F tax form;
- (1)(d) Filed a United States income tax return for each year of AGR expense history and income history that is the same tax entity for the insurance year unless at least 90 percent of the farming operation (ownership or use) is transferred to a new person and the transferor ceases to file a United States tax return for that farming operation after the transfer takes place; provided that a change in entity was not done to circumvent any law or liability. If such a transfer takes place, the AGR expense and income history will be used when calculating the approved AGR and approved expenses. When a farming operation is transferred into an existing farming operation, the combined AGR expense and income histories will be used when calculating the approved AGR and approved expenses;
- (1)(e) Files a United States Federal Income Tax return;
- (1)(f) Has records necessary to support the allowable income and allowable expenses stated on the farm tax forms, and to support the value of post production operations;
- (1)(g) Does NOT indicate on his or her annual farm report for the insurance year that more than:
 - 1 Fifty percent of the allowable income will be derived from agricultural commodities purchased for resale;
 - 2 Fifty percent of the allowable income will be derived from a combination of the production of crops for which individual insurance policies (e.g. an apple policy) are offered under the authority of the Act, animals and animal products, unless such commodities are insured under other available insurance offered under the authority of the ACT; or
 - 3 Thirty-five percent of allowable income will be derived from animals and animal products

A(2) Income covered is allowable income from all agricultural commodities produced or purchased for resale during the insurance year. If more than 50 percent of the expected allowable income for the insurance year will be from agricultural commodities purchased for resale the insured is not eligible for AGR coverage. Insured crops reinsured under the authority of the Act (The ACT) may not be excluded from AGR coverage; however, the liability for crops insured under The ACT (up to a maximum of 50% of the approved AGR) is subtracted from the AGR liability when calculating the AGR premium.

- A(3) Insurable Farming and Management Practices. When Insurance Providers find that farming practices used by producers are not usual for the area, they may consult with FCIC. For questionable cases for which an FCIC determination is requested, insurance providers must supply in writing the facts and background information regarding the cultural practices carried out and those generally used in the area. FCIC will use the resources available, which may include FSA, CSREES, organic certifying agencies, or other sources recommended by CSREES, to determine whether the farming and management practices used by producers are good farming and management practices.

If the insured does not agree with a loss determination regarding good farming and management practices, the insured may request a review of that determination in accordance with the review process established for this purpose and published in the Code of Federal Regulations part 400, subpart J.

- A(4) Term. AGR policies are continuous contracts and remain in force until: 1) canceled in writing by either the insured or the insurance provider on or before the cancellation date for the effective crop year, 2) the policy is terminated by the insurance provider because the applicable administrative fee or any other unpaid amount (e.g., overpaid indemnity, premium) was not paid, 3) voided by the insurance provider, or 4) the AGR program is terminated by FCIC. The cancellation and termination dates are January 31 for all states.
- A(5) Cancellation. The insured or insurance provider may cancel an AGR policy for any insurance year following the initial insurance year by giving a signed notice to the other party on or before the cancellation date that precedes the insurance year. A request made by the insured to cancel an AGR policy after the cancellation date will be effective the following insurance year.

Insurance may not be canceled the first effective insurance year by the insured, except if:

- (5)(a) A change is made in the AGR policy or actuarial documents (special provisions or rates) which adversely affects the coverage or rate which was not on file at the time of application. If an application is taken before revised rates and rules filing, the applicant will be advised by the insurance provider of any change which would adversely affect the insured crop. The applicant will then have the option to cancel the AGR POLICY on or before the cancellation date.
- (5)(b) The insured wishes to insure with another agent/insurance provider and the insurance provider(s) involved agrees.

- (5)(c) A mutual consent cancellation is appropriate due to the approved AGR being less than 95 percent of the preliminary AGR, as provided in Part 1, Section 7, Par. C(5).
- A(6) Termination. The insurance provider will terminate the AGR policy for the succeeding insurance year if the insured fails to pay the AGR administrative fee and/or any premium due by the termination date for non-payment of premium (which precedes that insurance year). AGR is not available to a person whose policy reinsured under the authority of the Act has been previously terminated for non-payment of premium or indebtedness (to FCIC or the insurance provider) and the unpaid premium/debt has not been satisfied. If a policy transfer is involved, a policy issued by a different insurance provider will be terminated for existing indebtedness. FCIC will not provide reinsurance on policies that should have been terminated for non-payment of premium but were not.
- A(7) Other Insurance. Other insurance (including policies on individual crops reinsured under the authority of the Act) is allowed.
- (7)(a) As a condition of AGR insurance, if more than 50 percent of the total expected allowable income for the insurance year will be derived from a combination of the production of crops for which individual insurance policies are offered under the authority of the ACT (except for crops which are insurable only under a pilot program), animals, and animal products such commodities must be insured under individual crop policies offered under the authority of the Act, if insurance is available.
- (7)(b) All other insurance policies (e.g., those offered under the authority of the ACT, property, casualty, transit, etc.) are primary and their policy provisions apply. Any indemnity received from another insurance policy for damage or loss to agricultural commodities covered by the AGR policy are considered to be revenue to count for AGR indemnity purposes.
- A(8) Duplicate AGR Policies Are Not Permitted. Insurance providers must use the Policyholder Tracking System (PHTS) to determine if more than one AGR policy is in force for the same person. If more than one AGR policy is in force for the same person, duplicate policies exist. The policy with the earliest date of application will remain in force and all other AGR policies will be canceled. If the insurance provider determines that duplicate AGR coverage exists and was intentional, the insured may be subject to the fraud provisions stated in the AGR policy. FCIC will edit to ensure that duplicate AGR policies are not in force.
- A(9) Substantial Beneficial Interest (SBI) Applications. An interest held by any person of at least 10 percent in the applicant or insured who derives income from agricultural commodities may be eligible for AGR insurance. Each person wishing to purchase an AGR policy must individually meet eligibility requirements.
- A(10) Insured Cause(s) of Loss. Insurance is provided against unavoidable loss of revenue. Refer to section 9 of the AGR policy provisions for uninsured causes.

A(11) Notice of Damage or Loss. In the event of probable loss, the insured must provide the insurance provider a notice of loss in within 72 hours of the initial discovery that allowable income for the insurance year could fall below the amount of revenue guaranteed (Approved AGR X the coverage level for the amount of coverage elected) in accordance with the AGR policy. [See Part 1, Section 7, Par. D(3) for the insured's responsibilities.]

(11)(a) Sufficient information must be provided to determine whether or not an inspection is necessary.

(11)(b) Severe Wind Erosion. An insured must notify the agent immediately of their intention to till acreage to control soil erosion. When the local Natural Resources Conservation Service/Cooperative Extension Service recommends emergency tillage to conserve the soil and minimize further damage to the insured crop, the policyholder may take immediate action and then promptly notify the agent.

11B Linkage Requirements. The AGR policy meets linkage requirements for benefits under the ACT; loans or any other USDA-provided farm credit, including guaranteed and direct farm ownership loans, operating loans, and emergency loans under the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act provided after October 13, 1994; and benefits under the Conservation Reserve Program provided by any new or amended application or contracts executed after October 13, 1994. Refer to the Crop Insurance Handbook (CIH) for additional linkage details.

11C Crop of Economic Significance Determinations. Allowable income from agricultural commodities that are not of economic significance must also be included in AGR determinations.

11D Administrative Fees. The administrative fee is due when the AGR premium is due. The administrative fee is $30 (additional coverage) for each person insured.

D(1) Administrative fees are required:

(1)(a) Each year that at least one agricultural commodity is produced. If the insured files a bona fide zero intended commodity report on or before the AGR sales closing date, an administrative fee is not required.

(1)(b) For individual crop policies reinsured under the authority of the Act. Refer to the CIH for additional administrative fee information.

D(2) Third parties are prohibited from paying administrative fees on producers'/insureds' behalf. Insurance providers, insurance agents, producer associations, grower groups, farm cooperatives, etc., may not pay administrative fees for producers/insureds. Only those persons acting in place of the producer/insured under a power of attorney, landlord/tenant agreement, or a legal guardianship, may pay the administrative fee.

D(3) Agents may submit a total of administrative fees paid to the insurance provider. However, a list of producers/insureds from whom the fees were collected must be attached to substantiate the total amount submitted.

D(4) Waiver of Administrative Fees. The administrative fee may be waived for a limited resource farmer [Refer to Part 1, Section 6, Definitions] if the insured requests a waiver and qualifies for it. Refer to the CIH for additional waiver instructions and the Request to Waive Administrative Fee Form. If selected for any program review on any crop policy reinsured under the authority of the Act, eligibility for waiver of administrative fees must be verified and the insured will be required to provide proof of gross income.

11E Copies of Documents. If original insurance documents are required by FCIC but are unavailable, a photocopy or carbon copy of an original insurance document may be used if CERTIFIED by the insurance provider. The copy MUST be marked or stamped "Certified True Copy," signed and dated by the insurance provider's authorized representative.

EXAMPLE:

> _____ >
> Certified True Copy >
> _____ >

A certified true copy may be accompanied by a memorandum explaining why a photocopy is being submitted instead of the original document.

12 APPLICATION FOR INSURANCE

12A Eligible Persons/Entities. Application for insurance may be made by a qualifying person to cover income from a bona fide interest in agricultural commodities at the time coverage begins. Bona fide interest is income to be earned from a share of the agricultural commodities as an owner-operator, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper. The insured must be the same person/entity as designated for income tax purposes.

A(1) Minors. A minor may insure agricultural commodities by having a court-appointed guardian or parent co-sign the application.

A(2) Separate applications/contracts are required for each qualifying person/entity as designated for tax purposes. ***

A(3) Income from Native American land held in trust by the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) is generally not subject to Federal income tax and therefore, BIA trusts are not eligible for insurance under the AGR policy. Other Native American entities subject to Federal Income Tax will be insured as applicable (i.e., proprietors, partnerships, corporations, etc.).

12B Ineligible Persons. Under the Food Security Act of 1985 and the regulations promulgated under the ACT by USDA, any person who is convicted under federal or state law of planting, cultivating, growing, producing, harvesting or storing a controlled substance in any insurance year will be ineligible for crop insurance for five years from the date of conviction.

- 12C Sales Closing Date. To participate, a person must apply for insurance on or before the sales closing date (January 31) contained in the AGR policy and the special provisions. Applications taken after the sales closing date may not be accepted until the following insurance year. [see section 12D(5)(c) for exceptions].
- C(1) If the risk period began prior to application and damage to any agricultural commodity occurred prior to insurance attaching (10 days after the insurance provider receives the completed application), an inspection must be performed prior to acceptance of the application. The risk period begins when an agricultural commodity's production cycle begins. Sales closing dates falling on Saturdays, Sundays, or legal holidays are extended to the next business day.
- C(2) For agricultural commodities damaged prior to insurance attaching, the approved AGR must be reduced in proportion to the reduction in expected income due to the damage that is sustained, or the application must be rejected.
- 12D Electing Coverage. The insured may elect any amount of AGR coverage for which he or she qualifies. The amounts of insurance that are available are specified on the AGR Special Provisions. Six amounts of coverage are available and are considered to be "additional coverage" for subsidy and administrative fee purposes. "CAT" coverage is not available. The amount of coverage is determined by the coverage level and payment rate selected. A change in the amount of coverage may be requested in writing on or before the applicable sales closing date.
- D(1) Amounts of Coverage:
- (1)(a) 80/75 or 80/90 = 80% coverage level with a 75% or 90% payment rate.
- (1)(b) 75/75 or 75/90 = 75% coverage level with a 75% or 90% payment rate.
- (1)(c) 65/75 or 65/90 = 65% coverage level with a 75% or 90% payment rate.
- D(2) Coverage Levels. AGR losses begin when the income to count for the insurance year is less than the product of multiplying the percentage for the coverage level elected times the Approved AGR (unless adjustments to the approved AGR are required when a claim for indemnity is completed).
- For example 65/75 coverage is elected and the approved AGR is $200,000: the loss begins when the allowable income for the insurance year is less than $130,000 ($$200,000 \times .65$). If the income to count for the insurance year is $80,000 the revenue deficiency is $50,000 ($$130,000 - $80,000 = $50,000$).
- D(3) Payment Rates. The payment rate is the percentage of the revenue deficiency that is paid by the insurance provider. For example, if 65/75 coverage was elected and the revenue deficiency was $50,000, the indemnity would be $37,500 ($$50,000 \times .75 = $37,500$)
- D(4) Qualifying for Higher Coverage. To qualify for any coverage level and payment rate combination other than the 65 percent coverage level with the 75 percent rate (65/75), the applicant/insured must:
- (4)(a) Meet the Following Diversification Requirements. The Annual Farm Report's Intended Agricultural Commodity Report for the insurance year must indicate that:

- 1 For 80/75 or 80/90 coverage, at least four agricultural commodities will be produced whose expected income for the insurance year is equal to or greater than the amount determined by applying the following diversification formula.

Diversification Formula: $(1 \div \text{the number of commodities to be produced} \times 0.333) \times (\text{the total expected income for the insurance year})$.

Example: If 10 commodities will be produced and the total expected allowable income for the insurance year is $100,000, the expected income from each of at least four commodities must be $3330 or greater.

$$(1 \div 10 \times 0.333) \times ($100,000) = $3330$$

- 2 For 65/90, 75/75, or 75/90 coverage, at least two agricultural commodities must be produced whose expected income for the insurance year is equal to or greater than the amount determined by applying the diversification formula.

Example: If 5 commodities will be produced and the total expected allowable income for the insurance year is $100,000, the expected income from each of at least two commodities must be $6700 or greater.

$$(1 \div 5 \times 0.333) \times ($100,000) = $6,700$$

- (4)(b) Provide additional underwriting information the initial year that the 75 or 80 percent coverage level is selected by submitting the Agricultural Commodity Profile to the Insurance Provider (The insurance provider must submit the Agricultural Commodity Profile to RMA and a copy of the applicable farm tax forms for the base period.)

- (4)(c) Coverage will be reduced to the highest amount for which the insured qualifies, if an indemnity is claimed and the insured does not qualify for the amount of coverage elected. The insured must be able to adequately document, to the insurance provider's satisfaction, that the Farm Plan was substantially carried out to the extent possible.

D(5) Premium Determination and Payments.

- (5)(a) Rates and Risk Classifications. The risk classifications and associated premium rates are determined by use of premium calculation software available from or approved by RMA. The agricultural commodities, expected revenue for each agricultural commodity, and preliminary/approved AGR contained on the intended agricultural commodity report for the insurance year are entered in the program and the program determines the risk classification/rate. Risk/rate classifications will vary by pilot area, commodity, diversity, and the amount of coverage elected.

(5)(b) Premium Calculation. The premium is calculated by subtracting the lesser of 1 or 2 from the AGR liability (approved AGR X coverage level x payment rate):

- 1 The dollar amount of liability from all other crops insured under the authority of the Act that could compensate the insured for damage or loss to agricultural commodities insured under the AGR policy. The liability used will be that used to determine the premium amount for such crops; or,
- 2 Fifty percent of the AGR liability;
- 3 And multiplying the result by the premium rate.

(5)(c) Premium Payments. The annual premium is due and payable at the time coverage begins. The insured will be billed for the premium due and any administrative fee due not earlier than the premium billing date contained in the AGR Special Provisions. The premium due, plus any accrued interest, will be considered delinquent if not paid on or before the termination date contained in the AGR Special Provisions.

D(6) Approved Applications. Use the FCI-12 AGR, Crop Insurance Application, or an AGR application approved by FCIC, to request insurance for qualifying persons. Applications are also used for successor-in-interest policies. Coverage applies to agricultural commodities produced by the qualifying person as shown on the accepted application. Any contract changes must also be made on or before the applicable sales closing date for the agricultural commodities insured.

(6)(a) Applications are subject to acceptance by the insurance provider. Prior to acceptance, the insurance provider will determine that the application:

- 1 Is for a qualifying person who has a bona fide interest (owner, operator, sharecropper, or tenant) in income derived from agricultural commodities;
- 2 Is completed for the same person (individual, partnership, co-owner, joint operator, estate, trust, etc.) as the IRS tax entity for the tax year.
- 3 Has been signed by a person(s) having authority to enter into a binding contract for the insured person; and
- 4 Contains all the material information required to insure the crop, including: all social security numbers and employer identification numbers, as applicable, amount of coverage (coverage level and payment percentage), Annual Farm Report and that the operation is contained within the pilot area. Applications that do not contain the material information to insure the crop may not be accepted by the insurance provider.

(6)(b) The policy will be voided if the insured has falsely and/or fraudulently concealed either the fact that the insured is restricted from receiving benefits under the Act or that action is pending which may restrict eligibility to receive such benefits.

(6)(c) Late-filed Requests for Insurance. After the sales closing date, an application may ONLY be taken and approved by the insurance provider under the following conditions:

- 1 There is documented evidence that the applicant intended to make timely application, but was prevented from doing so by circumstances beyond his or her control (i.e., personal illness or family tragedy).
- 2 The primary reason for the application being late-filed is the fault of insurance provider.

The insurance provider must document in writing, justification for taking the request and have an authorized representative perform a crop/commodity inspection. If the agricultural commodities to be insured are not damaged and will generate the AGR on which the AGR liability will be based, the insurance provider may accept the application. If agricultural commodities are damaged and will not generate the AGR, the approved AGR must be reduced to the amount that can be reasonably expected or the application must be denied.

(6)(d) Rejected Applications. If rejected, the original application along with a letter of explanation must be sent to the applicant. Insurance providers should provide a copy to the agent/representative.

12E Transfer of Policies. Use FCI-480, Cancellation/Transfer of Experience or FCIC approved Cancellation/Transfer of Experience forms to cancel AGR policies and to transfer AGR data from one insurance provider to another. To be effective, transfer requests must be signed by the cancellation date and received by the ceding insurance provider no later than 45 days after the cancellation date. Requests received later than 45 days after the cancellation date may be rejected by the ceding insurance provider for that crop year.

- E(1) The policy may not be canceled the first effective crop year with any insurance provider for the purpose of insuring with another insurance provider without the consent of the insurers involved.
- E(2) Requirements. The assuming insurance provider must complete and have the insured sign a Cancellation/Transfer of Experience Data Form for each AGR policy being transferred. A policyholder may transfer a policy only once per insurance year.
- E(3) Documentation. The assuming insurance provider must complete an application, indicate it is a renewal, obtain the insured's signature, and enter the ceding insurance provider's policy number(s) on the Policy Cancellation and Transfer of Experience Data Form.
- E(4) AGR History. When the insured transfers the policy to a different agent and/or insurance provider, the AGR income and expense history MUST also be transferred. The AGR income and expense history must be used unless there is a break in continuity of AGR history during the base period, if such a break occurs the person is not eligible for AGR coverage.

(4)(a) Responsibilities.

- 1 The assuming insurance provider must advise the policyholder that:
 - a Premium and loss experience (if any) will be transferred.
 - b AGR history will also be transferred.
 - c The policy will be terminated if the insured is indebted to the ceding insurance provider.
- 2 All insurance providers are required to transmit experience (premium and loss data) and AGR data to FCIC. FCIC will enter this information into Experience and Yield History Databases. The PHTS may be used to access this information.

(4)(b) Verification of Underwriting Information. Insurance providers may complete/issue policies using the PHTS without requesting insurance experience and AGR history from the ceding insurance provider. However, if the PHTS information appears incomplete or inaccurate, the assuming insurance provider MUST request the data from the ceding insurance provider. When requested timely the ceding insurance provider will provide the experience and complete AGR data for the policy to the assuming insurance provider no later than 15 calendar days after receiving the request.

(4)(c) The assuming insurance provider must notify the ceding insurance provider when it has accepted the transfer. The ceding insurance provider will then terminate its policy. In any transfer, the assuming insurance provider must issue the policy and the ceding insurance provider must terminate its policy.

(4)(d) Policy service functions will be performed by the assuming insurance provider upon completion of the transfer process.

13 TAX/INSURED'S ENTITY CHANGES. The person insured must be the same as the legal tax entity for the insurance year unless a carryover insured and the tax entity changed after insurance attached.

13A Changes of an insurable entity, include:

- A(1) Formation or dissolution of a partnership or corporation,
- A(2) Creation or revocation of a trust,
- A(3) Death of the proprietor causing the proceeds from agricultural commodities be handled through an estate or the settlement of an insured estate; or
- A(4) A change in insured's status such as; dissolution or a declaration of incompetency or incapacity, change of name due to marriage, divorce, etc., or a minor attaining majority.

13B For new AGR insureds, if the historical income and expense records are for a different tax entity(ies) than the tax entity for the insurance year, producers may request an underwriting review to determine if such records may be used. The request must be made to the insurance provider by the sales closing date and be accompanied by the completed application, annual farm report, supporting tax records, and secondary supporting records (if applicable). An insurance provider underwriting review must be performed to determine acceptability of the income and expense history. Income and expense history for a different tax entity than the tax entity for the insurance year (new person), may ONLY be used if:

- B(1) At least 90 percent of the farming operation (ownership or use) was transferred to the new person. When a farming operation is transferred into an existing farming operation, the combined AGR expense and income histories will be used to calculate the approved AGR and approved expenses;
- B(2) The transferor ceased to file a United States tax return for the transferred farming operation after the transfer took place;
- B(3) The entity change was not to circumvent any law or liability; and
- B(4) Five continuous years of acceptable income and expense history have been provided.

If approved by the insurance provider, the AGR expense and income history will be used when calculating the approved AGR and approved expenses. If not approved, the application is rejected and the producer is not eligible for AGR insurance.

13C For Carryover Insureds. If the tax/insured entity changes:

- C(1) BEFORE the earlier of beginning of planting of any insured annual crop, or BEFORE insurance attaches for any insured perennial crop, the policy terminates. For AGR coverage to continue, a new application must be processed as indicated in Paragraph 13B. Insureds or the personal representative for a decedent (executor or administrator of an estate or anyone in actual or constructive possession of the any property of the decedent) must report tax entity changes no later than the sales closing date for the insurance year if the change occurred prior to the sales closing date.
- C(2) AFTER the beginning of planting of any insured annual crop, or AFTER insurance attaches for any insured perennial crop, coverage under the policy will continue until the end of the insurance year. A crop inspection is not required if the crop/commodity report for the insurance year was filed by the sales closing date.
 - (2)(a) If an indemnity is claimed, the insured must provide tax records (for the new entity and previous entity if the previous entity owes taxes for a partial tax year) and secondary supporting records of allowable income and expenses for the entire insurance year. Insureds must be able to document all allowable income and expenses by providing supporting secondary records. If the records provided are not acceptable to the insurance provider, the claim will be denied.

(2)(b) If the change was due to the death of the insured and an indemnity is due, the person entitled to the indemnity must be determined and documented in the official file folder. The documentation must indicate the contract number, AGR history, and circumstances requiring the change. A copy of the death certificate may be used to positively document the date of death. The person entitled to the indemnity will be the heirs, other beneficiaries, or the insured's estate if the estate is not settled by the date the claim is finalized. The person entitled to the indemnity or if an estate, the estate's personal representative must provide any required tax document(s) (Schedule F or substitute documents) and any other required supporting documentation for the loss year.

C(3) A successor-in-interest application may be used to continue insurance protection and AGR income and expense history if the tax entity changed and all of the following conditions are met.

(3)(a) A successor-in-interest policy requires the preparation of a new application and cancellation of the previous policy. The successor must:

- 1 Except for estates and living trusts, have participated in an active farming capacity to assist with the earning of the income reported for historic AGR purposes and
- 2 The extent of the successor's participation in the prior production of agricultural commodities must be fully documented on the successor-in-interest request. For example, a husband and wife filed joint tax returns during the base period; however, for the insurance year they created a family farming corporation that consists of the previous farming operation.

(3)(b) At least 90 percent of the farming operation (ownership or use) must have been transferred to the successor,

(3)(c) The transferor ceased to file a United States tax return for the transferred farming operation after the transfer took place, and

(3)(d) The entity change was not to circumvent any law or liability.

C(4) Limitations. A successor-in-interest policy will cover only up to the average allowable income or indexed allowable income (if applicable) reported for the farming operation previously insured. If a change in the tax entity: creates additional insurance entities (for example a partnership is dissolved and three sole proprietor tax entities are created), combines the farming operation with another farming operation, or results in less than 90 percent of the farming operation being transferred to a single successor, a successor-in-interest application is not applicable.

C(5) Applicants. A successor-in-interest application may be taken from:

(5)(a) A person having the authority to sign for the new entity.

(5)(b) An authorized representative (executor or administrator of an estate; trustee of a trust; guardian of a judicially declared incompetent, minor, or incapacitated individual; or individual having power of attorney).

14 PREVIOUS INSURANCE EXPERIENCE/PREMIUM ADJUSTMENT

Insureds may have had favorable insurance experience (base premiums and loss experience) and earned premium discounts on some crops [See the CIH for additional details] under previous policy provisions that were in force. When switching to AGR, previous insurance experience must be retained by the insurance provider for insureds to remain eligible for any earned favorable insurance discount (factor) if they switch back to the previous plan. If an insured switches back to the previous insurance plan, the insurance provider must update the insurance experience for that plan. Refer to the CIH for crops eligible for premium experience discounts and additional details.

15 COVERAGE LIMITATIONS

The amount of coverage to be written on each eligible policy is determined as follows:

15A Amount of Coverage. The approved AGR multiplied by the the amount of coverage elected (coverage level and payment rate) is the basis for determining the insured's premium and indemnity; however, indemnities may be reduced to reflect changes made after the Annual Farm Report is filed.

15B Benefit Limitations Under Crop Insurance and Other USDA Programs.

A insured with additional coverage who is eligible to receive an indemnity and benefits under any other USDA program for the same loss may receive benefits under both programs, unless specifically limited by the crop insurance contract or by law. However, the total amount received from all such sources may not exceed the amount of the actual loss sustained by the insured. The total amount of the actual crop loss is the difference between the fair market value of the insured crop before and after the loss, based upon the producer's production records and the highest price election or coverage available for the crop. FSA will consider the amount of any crop insurance indemnity and pay any additional amount due for any USDA program they administer, after first considering the amount of any crop insurance indemnity. Agricultural Market Transition Act (AMTA) payments, farm ownership, and operating loans may be obtained from the USDA in addition to insurance indemnities.

15C INCORRECT COVERAGE LEVEL SELECTED.

If an insured has elected the 80 or 75 percent coverage level with a 75 or 90 percent payment rate, or 65/90 coverage and the insurance provider determines that the insured does not qualify for that amount of coverage, the coverage will be reduced to the next highest coverage for which the insured qualifies and the premium adjusted accordingly.

16 SUPPORTING RECORDS

16A Acceptable records are required that support the AGR certified by insureds. Copies of the applicable IRS tax form(s) Schedule F and C Form 1040, Schedule K-1, Form 1120, Form 1041, Form 1065, Form 1102S, or Form 4835, etc. must be provided for each tax year certified for historic revenue purposes and are the primary acceptable supporting records. To be considered for historic revenue purposes the income must have been reported to IRS. Tax records and other supporting records as required must be retained by the insured for three insurance years after the end of the insurance year for which the AGR history was initially certified.

- 16B Substitute Schedule F Tax Forms. Entities engaged in the business of farming that do not complete and file Schedule F's (e.g., a farming corporation), must report and certify allowable income and expenses for AGR purposes in the same manner as those who file Schedule F's. A substitute Schedule F form must be completed for any applicable tax year a Schedule F was not filed with the IRS. If the substitute tax form is not provided with the revenue report for any such tax year, that tax year is not acceptable for AGR purposes and must not be accepted by the insurance provider.
- 16C Secondary Supporting Records. Insureds who provide a substitute tax form as supporting documentation or make adjustments for AGR reporting purposes to the gross income that was reported on applicable tax documents, must provide secondary documentation to verify that the correct amount was reported. Secondary documentation is supporting documentation such as: accounting records, farm management records, warehouse receipts, ledger sheets, sales receipts/records, settlement sheets, accounts paid, payroll receipts (a copy of payments made to the Social Security Administration for tax payments), canceled checks showing the banking institution's stamp of payment, feeding records, and etc., and may be used to substantiate allowable income and allowable expenses certified). If the amount reported for AGR cannot be verified through the use of supporting records, that tax year is not acceptable for AGR purposes and must not be accepted by the insurance provider. If a break in continuity of tax records occurs during the base period, coverage is not provided. These documents must show:
- C(1) The agricultural commodity sold (if documentation of allowable expense, the item purchased),
 - C(2) Name of the seller,
 - C(3) Name of the buyer, storer, or marketing outlet,
 - C(4) Year the agricultural commodity was produced (purchased if documentation of allowable expense) and date of the transaction.
- 16D Questionable Primary (Tax) Records. If the insurance provider has reason to believe that the primary supporting record may not provide accurate documentation of income and/or expenses for AGR purposes, the insurance provider must request secondary supporting records to verify the amount reported for AGR. If the amount reported for AGR cannot be verified through the use of secondary records, that tax year is not acceptable for AGR purposes and must not be accepted by the insurance provider.
- 16E Use of Another Entity's Records. Not applicable unless a successor-in-interest and all successor-in-interest requirements are met [See 13C(3)] or the tax entity changed and those requirements are met [refer to 13B].

17 GENERAL CALCULATION RULES

Average and indexed AGR's are calculated from acceptable revenue reports for continuous tax years that are within the base period and that were signed and submitted by the sales closing date. Once certified and accepted by the insurance provider, AGR income and expense history will remain in the database until a tax year is outside of the base period or it is determined that the income and/or expenses for a tax year(s) must be corrected. Corrections cannot be made without acceptable supporting records and the verifier's approval.

- 17A Databases. Databases will consist of 5 consecutive tax years prior to the year immediately preceding the insurance year (a lag year). There may be NO break in the continuity of years for which revenue reports are required. If a break in continuity of revenue occurs during the base period, coverage is not provided.
- 17B Zero AGR Reports. A revenue report indicating that the insured did not have a share in allowable income from shares in any agricultural commodities (zero AGR report) is considered a break in continuity of tax years.

18 SUBMISSION OF REVENUE REPORTS

In order to be used for an insurance year, acceptable revenue reports must be signed and submitted to the agent by the sales closing date and include ONLY allowable income and allowable expenses for the insured (tax entity). Revenue reports must be consecutive and based on the same accounting method (cash or accrual) as used each tax year.

- 18A Adjustments to Gross Income. Adjustments must be made to gross income for the following situations:
- A(1) Agricultural Commodities Purchased for Resale. The cost or other basis of agricultural commodities (including animals/livestock) bought for resale must be subtracted from the gross sales amount.
- A(2) Added Value Received for Post-production Products. Gross income that includes added value received from post-production products such as: milling of grain into flour, processing of apples into baby food or cider, fruit put into gift baskets, etc., must be adjusted to reflect allowable income as defined by the policy. To determine the allowable income for added value products, the cost of labor, processing, packing, packaging materials, containers, controlled atmosphere (CA) storage, trucking beyond a local market, etc. incurred to obtain the added value, must be deducted from the added value gross income.
- NOTE: If the insured reported a “net” amount received from value added products to the IRS, no adjustment is required. For example, an insured sold processed apples under contract to a baby food manufacturer. The processor paid the insured a “net” amount with grading, box rent, scalding, PIP, CA storage, etc., deducted from the gross amount and the insured reported the “net” amount to IRS.
- 18B Do NOT include income that is not allowed such as wages, salaries, tips, cash rent, etc.

19 CALCULATION OF AGR

- 19A Preliminary AGR. Agents must calculate and enter preliminary AGR’s on the Farm reports for new insureds. Preliminary AGR’s are necessary to provide applicants with estimated premiums and estimated coverages that will be provided. The preliminary AGR is calculated using the same procedures as used to calculate the approved AGR. The approved AGR must be issued by the insurance provider verifier. If the approved AGR is less than 95 percent of the preliminary AGR, the insured may submit a written request for reconsideration or request mutual cancellation of the AGR policy. Such requests must be made within 30 calendar days of the date the approved AGR was mailed or was otherwise made available to the insured.

19B Approved AGR. The allowable income for five consecutive tax years is used to calculate average AGR's. The total allowable income is divided by five and rounded to the nearest dollar. The approved AGR is the lesser of: 1) the average AGR or the indexed average AGR, whichever is applicable, or 2) the total expected allowable income (Item 18 of the Intended Agricultural Commodity Report) indicated on the insured's Annual Farm Report.

B(1) Indexed average AGR's. Indexed average AGR's may be calculated for expanding operations to increase effective coverage by multiplying the average AGR by an income trend factor. To qualify for indexed AGR's: 1) at least one of the two most recent tax year's allowable income (in the AGR base period) must be greater than the average AGR, 2) the insurance year's total expected income (Item 18, Intended Agricultural Commodity Report) indicated on the Annual Farm Report as approved by the insurance provider must be greater than the average AGR, and 3) the income trend factor must be greater than 1.000. Note: if the income trend factor is greater than 1.000, average expenses must be indexed in the same manner [See Par.19D(2)].

B(2) Calculate indexed average AGR's as follows:

Step 1: Divide each tax year's allowable income (Col 8 of the AGR Report) by the preceding tax year's allowable income and round to three decimal places. The factor may not exceed 1.200 (20% cap) or be less than .800 (20% cup). Example: (1996's allowable income $110,000) ÷ (1995's allowable income $100,000) = 1.100, (1997's allowable income $134,000) ÷ (1996's allowable income $110,000) = 1.218 capped at 1.200, and etc.

Step 2: Total the results obtained in Step 1, divide by four, round to three decimal places. Multiply the result by itself three times (fourth power).

Example: $(1.100 + 1.200 + 0.900 + 1.200) \div 4 = 1.100^4 = 1.464$

Step 3: Multiply the income trend factor obtained in Step 2 times the average AGR and round to the nearest dollar. Example: (Average AGR $121,920 X 1.464 = $178,490).

19C Issuance of Approved AGR. The approved AGR is issued by the insurance provider (verifier) and is used to calculate the insured's AGR coverage and premium.

19D Approved Expenses. The allowable expenses for five consecutive tax years are used to calculate the average allowable expenses. The total allowable expenses are divided by five and rounded to the nearest dollar. Approved expenses are:

D(1) Average expenses, if the approved AGR is the average of the allowable income.

D(2) Indexed, if the approved AGR is indexed. Calculate indexed average expenses as follows:

Step 1: Divide each tax year's allowable expenses (Col 9 of the AGR Report) by the preceding tax year's allowable expenses and round to three decimal places. The factor may not exceed 1.200 (20% cap) or be less than .800 (20% cup).

EXAMPLE: (1996's allowable expenses are $95,000) ÷ (1995's allowable expenses are $93,500) = 1.016. (1997's allowable expenses $107,200) ÷ (1996's allowable expenses $95,000) = 1.129, and etc.

Step 2: Total the results obtained in Step 1, divide by four, round to three decimal places. Multiply the result by itself three times (fourth power).

EXAMPLE: (1.016 + 1.129 + 0.950 + 1.200 = 4.295) ÷ 4 = 1.074⁴ = 1.332

Step 3: Multiply the expense trend factor obtained in Step 2 times the average allowable expenses and round to the nearest dollar. Example: (Average allowable expenses $103,632 X 1.332 = $138,038).

- D(3) Factored down, if the approved AGR is lower than the average allowable income. The average of the allowable expenses will be multiplied by the factor that results from dividing the approved AGR by the average of the allowable income. For example: If the average allowable income is $100,000, the average allowable expenses are $90,000, and the approved AGR is $80,000, the approved expenses would be $90,000 x ($80,000 ÷ $100,000 = 0.800) = $72,000.

20 ANNUAL FARM REPORTS

A Farm Report is required when making application for AGR insurance the initial year of insurance and in subsequent insurance years by the applicable sales closing date. The Farm Report is required prior to the acceptance of any AGR liability. If the Farm Report is not provided by the sales closing date in subsequent insurance years, the policy will be terminated by the insurance provider.

The Farm Report must contain but is not limited to the following information: [See Part 4, Section 34 for completion instructions.]

20A Revenue Report. [Refer to Section 24 for additional information concerning allowable income and expenses.]

- A(1) For new insureds (applicants), Five consecutive tax years of allowable income and allowable expense history.
- A(2) For carryover insureds, the allowable income and allowable expense history from the tax year prior to the tax year immediately preceding the insurance year.
- A(3) A copy of the farm tax forms, for each tax year of AGR history that is being reported on the revenue report.

20B The Intended Agricultural Commodity Report (report) is the insured's report of individual agricultural commodities that will be produced, the amount that will be produced, and the expected allowable income from those commodities the insurance year. If value added post-production products are involved, the expected gross income must be reduced as indicated in Part 2, 18A(2). The intended agricultural commodity report must indicate the number of acres planted, number of animals produced, amount of the commodity to be produced, and the income from agricultural commodities purchased for resale (less the cost or other basis). Take into consideration the number of plantings/harvests of an individual commodity (e.g., one 5 acre field was planted twice to the same commodity, and harvested twice in the same insurance year equals 10 acres of the commodity). To underwrite the AGR policy and determine the correct premium rates use the RMA approved AGR premium calculator:

- B(1) If commodities are produced in more than one pilot or rating area. determine the pilot/rating area from which the greatest amount of allowable income is expected. For premium calculation and reporting purposes, complete the report for that county. Commodity lists are different for different counties [See Exhibit 2 for commodity lists by pilot/rating area].
- B(2) Reports must categorize agricultural commodities as indicated on the Agricultural Commodity and Code Listing (listing) for the appropriate pilot/rating area. See B(1) if produced in more than one pilot/rating area. Each agricultural commodity listed has a separate code and is considered one agricultural commodity for reporting, rating, and underwriting purposes. Each commodity and applicable commodity code must be listed on a separate line, up to a maximum of 14 commodities (lines). (For administrative purposes AGR Intended Commodity Reports are limited to 14 commodity lines due to data acceptance system limitations.)
- (2)(a) If individual commodities are not included on the listing, they must be reported as "other" commodities corresponding to the general genus. (e.g., if lima beans and cabbage are not listed, they should be reported as "other vegetables.")
- (2)(b) If more than 14 listed commodities will be produced, individual commodities from which the greatest amount of income is expected must be reported first. Similar commodities should be grouped with the commodity that is expected to produce the most income so as not to exceed 14 lines. E.g., various vegetables such as cabbage, broccoli, lettuce, and kohlrabi should be grouped together, and reported as cabbage if cabbage is expected to produce the most income.
- (2)(c) Agricultural commodities bought for resale. Income from covered commodities bought for resale must be reported under the appropriate listed commodity. The cost or other basis must be subtracted from the expected gross sales of agricultural commodities bought for resale.
- B(3) Supplemental information is required for some commodities:
- (3)(a) Nursery Field Grown and Container (FG &C). A detailed listing/inventory of the plants that will be produced during the insurance year, corresponding expected market prices, marketing method (wholesale/retail), and total expected allowable income.
- (3)(b) Christmas trees. A listing/inventory by type and size/age, corresponding expected market prices, marketing method (wholesale/retail) that will be produced during the insurance year.
- (3)(c) Other Live Animals/Poultry. The report must also indicate the type and number of animals/poultry (mink, turkeys, chickens, ducks, pigeons, quail, etc.) to be produced during the insurance year if the animal is not listed as a separate commodity.

20C Report of changes to the farming operation, if any, that will affect the insurance year's AGR as compared to the historic AGR. Each insurance year the insured must report any changes (Item 22 of the Farm Report) of the:

C(1) Tax entity,

C(2) Agricultural commodities produced or production practices,

C(3) The size of the farming operation such as; a decrease in acreage, termination of the production of any agricultural commodity, fewer plantings of an agricultural commodity, expansion, and shares of agricultural commodities,

C(4) Market conditions or marketing methods (wholesale, retail, or direct),

C(5) Condition of any perennial crop, such as damage occurring prior to the beginning of the insurance period or if replacement of any depletable agricultural commodity that is not planned; or

C(6) Any other change that may reduce the insured's allowable income from previous levels.

21 INVENTORIES AND ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE

Accurate documentation of inventories and accounts receivable are the insured's responsibility and failure to do so may result in income earned from agricultural commodities produced in prior years being counted as income to count for the current insurance year.

When applicable, beginning inventories must be submitted to the insurance provider no later than: 1) January 31 of the insurance year if a calendar year filer, or 2) the last day of the month in which the fiscal year begins if a fiscal year filer.

Inventories and accounts receivable must also be supported by verifiable records. See Part 4, Section 35 for the Inventory and Accounts Receivable Form, completion instructions, and additional information.

22 AGRICULTURAL COMMODITY PROFILE

Insureds who meet the diversity requirements stated in the Special Provisions for the 75 and 80 percent coverage levels are also required to complete the Agricultural Commodity Profile to qualify for such coverage. The Agricultural Commodity Profile provides additional underwriting information for the same tax years that are reported on the AGR Revenue Report. This information is essential for future development of the AGR program especially, if higher coverage amounts are elected. Insurance providers must forward this information to RMA. [See Part 4, Section 36 for the Agricultural Commodity Profile Form, completion instructions, and additional information.]

24 (RESERVED)

PART 3 CLAIM FOR INDEMNITY ACCOUNTING STANDARDS25 GENERAL ACCOUNTING STANDARDS*25A General Information

- A(1) Each insured entity (individual, partnership, corporation) must calculate and report to the IRS, taxable income on an annual accounting period called a tax year. The calendar year is the most common tax year used. Other tax years are the fiscal year and under certain conditions, a short tax year. The insured's IRS tax year (calendar or fiscal) is used for AGR accounting purposes. The insurance year is designated by the calendar year in which the sales closing occurs. (e.g., the 2001 insurance year covers producers whose IRS fiscal tax year begins June 1, 2001 and ends May 31, 2002).
- A(2) Cash and accrual accounting methods:
- (2)(a) Under the cash accounting method, the taxpayer will generally report income in the tax year received and deduct expenses in the tax year they are paid.
- (2)(b) Under the accrual accounting method, the taxpayer will generally report income in the tax year it is earned and deduct expenses in the tax year incurred regardless of when payment is made or received.
- A(3) For accounting purposes, the terms beginning and ending inventories, beginning and ending accounts payable, and beginning and ending accounts receivable, are synonymous with the beginning and ending dates for the IRS tax year.

25B Accounting Methods

- B(1) When a claim is filed, the accrual accounting method will be used to determine income to count.
- (1)(a) Under the accrual accounting method, income is generally reported in the year earned and expenses are deducted or capitalized in the year incurred. The purpose of this method of accounting is to match income and expenses to the year in which it was earned.
- (1)(b) The insured generally will include an amount as income for the tax year in which all events have occurred that allow them the right to receive the income and can be determined with reasonable accuracy.
- (1)(c) An inventory must be used when production from prior year(s) is in inventory and/or production from the insurance year is not sold by the last day of the insurance year to determine allowable income. For claims, allowable income is generally calculated by subtracting the value of beginning inventory sold during the insurance year and adding the value of ending inventory produced during the insurance year. Beginning and ending inventories except for animals, commodities held for more than an insurance year to realize a gain in maturity/value (e.g., trees, shrubs, etc.), and commodities purchased for resale are valued at the actual amount received if the inventory is sold prior to the time the claim is finalized. If the inventory is not sold at the time the claim is finalized. It is valued at the local market value on the first day of the month in which the claim is finalized. For non-loss years, inventories are generally calculated using increases and decreases in the amount of inventory of agricultural commodities between the beginning and ending of the insurance year. A complete inventory of commodities insured is required for reporting income on an accrual method.

- B(2) For underwriting purposes (determining approved AGR), the accounting method(s) used for reporting to the IRS will be used to determine the insurance year AGR.
- B(3) Regardless of the accounting method (cash or accrual) used for tax purposes, accrual adjustments as indicated in the AGR policy are required for claim purposes.

25C AGR Allowable Income - General Information

- C(1) Allowable income is income from the business of farming reported to the IRS. Generally, farm income and expenses are reported on the following tax forms:
 - (1)(a) Schedule F (Form 1040) Profit or Loss From Farming (Publication 225 Farmer's Tax Guide provides instructions),
 - (1)(b) Schedule J (Form 1040) Farm Income Averaging,
 - (1)(c) Farm Rental Income and Expenses (Form 4835),
 - (1)(d) U.S. Partnership Return of Income (Form 1065),
 - (1)(e) Schedule K-1, (Form 1065) Partner's Share of Income, Credits, Deductions, etc.,
 - (1)(f) U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return (Form 1120),
 - (1)(g) U.S. Corporation Short-Form Income Tax Return (Form 1120-A), and,
 - (1)(h) U.S. Income Tax Return for an S Corporation (Form 1120S).
- C(2) Income, gains, losses and deductions that may be related to allowable income, under certain situations, are required by IRS to be reported on the following tax forms:
 - (2)(a) Schedule C (Form 1040) Profit or Loss from Business.
 - (2)(b) Schedule D (Form 1040) Capital Gains and Losses,
 - (2)(c) Schedule E (Form 1041) Supplemental Income and Loss, and
 - (2)(d) Sales of Business Property (Form 4797) (A source to determine the income from animals held for draft, breeding or dairy animals).

Allowable farm Income does not include added value due to post-production operations such as processing, packing, packaging, etc. Refer to Part I, Section 6, Definitions for the list of allowable income.

C(3) Excluded Income (AGR History), is income to be deducted from gross income for the production of agricultural commodities that the IRS requires the insured to report. Excluded income for AGR history purposes (approved AGR's) is:

- (3)(a) The additional income from value added items -(i.e. cider from apples raised, flour from raised grain, baskets of fruit, etc.);
- (3)(b) Cooperative dividends that are not directly related to the production of an insured agricultural commodity;
- (3)(c) Processing of insured commodities (including grading, packing, controlled atmosphere storage, etc.);
- (3)(d) Custom hire (machine work);
- (3)(e) Agricultural program payments;
- (3)(f) Crop insurance payments and certain disaster payments;
- (3)(g) Net gain from commodity hedges; and
- (3)(h) Commodities not covered (e.g., animals for sport, show, or pets and timber, forest, forest products).

C(4) Excluded Income (for Claim Purposes): Income to be deducted from gross income for the production of agricultural commodities that the IRS requires the insured to report. Excluded income for claim purposes includes:

- (4)(a) The additional income from value added items -(i.e. cider from apples raised, flour from raised grain, baskets of fruit, etc.);
- (4)(b) Cooperative dividends that are not directly related to the production of an insured agricultural commodity;
- (4)(c) Processing of insured commodities (including grading, packing, controlled atmosphere storage, etc.);
- (4)(d) Custom hire (machine work);
- (4)(e) Agricultural program payments;
- (4)(f) Commodities not covered (e.g., animals for sport, show, or pets and timber, forest, forest products).
- (4)(g) Ad hoc disaster payments (e.g., multi-year disaster assistance, adjusted price elections for insured fresh market peach producers in Michigan, and freeze damage to citrus).

- 25D Insurance Year Allowable Expenses - General Information. For insureds who file Schedule F, the allowable expenses will generally be line 35 less lines 16, 23, 26, and 31. The allowable portion of Line 16 would only involve the amount of depreciation allowed for animals. Refer to Part 1, Section 6, Definitions, for the list of allowable expenses.

26 ADJUSTMENTS TO GROSS INCOME AND EXPENSES

When a loss occurs cash basis allowable income for the insurance year will be converted to accrual basis allowable income for the insurance year by making adjustments to cash basis allowable income. These adjustments will include accrual and other adjustments.

26A Accrual Adjustments to Allowable Income for the Insurance Year

In order to convert the insured's cash basis allowable income to accrual basis allowable income for the insurance year, beginning balances (inventories in the units of measure for the agricultural commodities), the amount of agricultural commodities disposed of (in units of measure for the agricultural commodities) and ending balances (inventories in the units of measures for the agricultural commodities) will be required if an indemnity is to be claimed. Balances are required for the following categories:

A(1) Accounts Receivable for Allowable Income for the Insurance Year

The beginning balance of accounts receivable will be compared to the ending balance of accounts receivable to determine accrual adjustments to allowable income for the insurance year. Accounts receivable are an accounting of agricultural commodities for which a specified sales price has been determined but which have not been sold. If the insured cannot determine the specified sales price, it should be included as an inventory item. For example, if the insured sold and delivered an agricultural commodity to a processor for an agreed upon price but had not received payment it should be considered an accounts receivable. However, if the price had not been agreed upon it should be included in inventory.

- (1)(a) When an insured's accounts receivables increase, cash basis allowable income for the insurance year will be increased by the increase in accounts receivable.
- (1)(b) When a insured's accounts receivables decrease, cash basis allowable income for the insurance year will be decreased by the decrease in accounts receivable.

A(2) Inventories For Animals, and Commodities Held for Sale

The beginning balance of inventories of agricultural commodities and the amount disposed of will be compared to the ending balance of agricultural commodities to determine the accrual adjustment to gross income for the change in beginning inventories of agricultural commodities held for sale.

When an insured's ending inventory contains agricultural commodities produced during the insurance year, cash basis allowable income will be increased by the amount attributed to agricultural commodities produced during the insurance year in inventory.

When an insured's beginning inventory of the agricultural commodities decreases, cash basis allowable income will be decreased by the amount of decrease in the beginning inventory.

(2)(a) Animals. The Animal Inventory/Accounting Worksheet calculates the revenue to count for claim purposes using increases or decreases in inventory values during the tax year, less the cost or the basis for animals purchased. Animals must be grouped according to the type/category corresponding to how they will be marketed. Local market value is determined at the beginning of the tax year for beginning inventories and for ending inventories at the end of the insurance year for each applicable type/category:

- 1 If animals are marketed in pounds, gross inventory values will be determined by multiplying the number of animals X the average lbs. per animal for the type/category X applicable value/price per lb.
- 2 For animals sold individually (by the head/animal) gross inventory values will be determined by multiplying the number of animals/livestock X the average value/price per animal for the type/category.
- 3 For animals being depreciated, inventory values are the amount paid less the depreciation allowed on previous years' and the current year's tax form.
- 4 Complete the beginning inventory for each applicable type/category of animals on hand at the beginning of the insurance year. Complete the ending inventory for animals/livestock on hand at the end of the insurance year. Include animals/livestock from which income is accounted for as gains or losses on Schedule D (Form 1040), Form 4797 (animals held for draft, breeding, dairy purposes, or not held primarily for sale), or is depreciated on Form 4562.

(2)(b) Commodities held to realize a gain in revenue due to an increase in maturity/size (e.g., Christmas trees or trees, shrubs, bushes, etc. in a nursery) will also use increases or decreases in inventory values, less the cost (or basis) if purchased for resale. Trees, shrubs, bushes, etc. must be grouped according to the genus and container size corresponding to how they will be marketed (retail or wholesale). Local market value is the retail or wholesale local market value corresponding to how the commodity will be marketed. If held for more than one insurance year to realize the gain in maturity/size, the gain in value during the insurance year is considered income for the insurance year. The Animal Inventory/Accounting Worksheet may be used for commodities other than animals held to realize a gain in maturity/size. (The average weight column may be used to indicate size, etc. for other commodities.)

- 1 Complete the beginning inventory for each grouping of trees, shrubs, bushes, etc. that are on hand at the beginning of the tax year and then determine the local market value at the beginning of the tax year. Determine the gross values for each group of commodities in beginning inventory by multiplying the amount in inventory X the average market value for the group. Total the gross values in beginning inventory for all groups of commodities.

- 2 Complete the ending inventory for each grouping of trees, shrubs, bushes, etc. on hand at the end of the tax year and determine the local market value at the end of the tax year. Determine the gross values for each group of commodities in ending inventory by multiplying the amount in ending inventory X the average market value for the group. Total the gross values in ending inventory for all groups of commodities. (Also used as beginning inventory for the subsequent insurance year.)
- 3 For indemnity purposes, subtract the total gross value in beginning inventory (Par. 1) from the total gross value of the ending inventory (Par. 2). The result is the net gain (if a positive number) or loss (if a negative number) in the value of commodities.

A(3) Table 1 - Accrual Adjustments to Gross Income

Table 1 illustrates an example of the calculation of accrual adjustments to cash basis allowable income. Assume an insured had the following balances:

The Cash Basis Allowable Income is $50,000

Beginning:	Accounts Receivable Inventory	$6,000 6,000 units of Commodity B (produced prior to insurance year)
Ending:	Accounts Receivable Inventory	$12,000 1,000 units of Commodity A (produced during insurance year) 1,000 Units of Commodity B (produced during insurance year)

TABLE 1

(1) Accrual Adjustments to Revenue	(2) Ending Units of Measure (dollars, bushels, lbs.,etc.)	(3) Beginning Units of Measure (dollars, bushels, lbs.,etc.)	(4) Adjustment Units of Measure (dollars, bushels, lbs.,etc.) (2) - (3)	(5) Value per Unit of Measure for Inventories (Claim Only)	(6) Income to Count (4) x (5)
Accounts Receivable	$12,000	$6,000	$6,000	N/A	$6,000
Inventories of agricultural commodities produced in a prior year	0 units of Commodity B	6,000 units of Commodity B	(6,000) units of Commodity B (sold during insurance year).	$3 per unit of Commodity B	($18,000) Commodity B
Inventories of agricultural commodities produced during the year	1,000 units of Commodity A	0 units of Commodity A	1,000 units of Commodity A	$2 per unit of Commodity A	$2,000 Commodity A
	1,000 units of Commodity B	0 units of Commodity B	1,000 units of Commodity B	$3.50 per unit of Commodity B	$3,500 Commodity B
Net Accrual Adjustments to add to or subtract from Allowable Income					($6500)

In this example the cash basis allowable income is $50,000, the net accrual adjustment of allowable income ($6500) would be subtracted from the cash basis allowable income of $50,000 for an accrual basis allowable income of $43,500 to count in the indemnity calculation.

26B Accrual Adjustments to Allowable Expenses

The insured's expenses will be determined by cash accounting methods and will include all allowable expenses reported to the IRS for the insurance year. However, if the insured prepays expenses and supplies to a greater extent than in past years to take unfair advantage of this policy, or if losses in the insurance year prevent the insured from prepaying for expenses and supplies to a lesser extent than in past years, allowable expenses may be converted to accrual basis and compared to the approved expenses. Beginning balances and ending balances may be required if an indemnity is to be claimed. Balances may be required for the following categories:

B(1) Prepaid Allowable Expenses

Prepaid allowable farm supply expenses are expenses for supplies purchased for use in the production of future insurance years' agricultural commodities and reported to the IRS as an expense in the current year. For example, an insured purchases fertilizer to be used in the production of next year's crop. These prepaid supplies may be held on the insured's farm or in a supplier's warehouse. The beginning balance of prepaid allowable expenses will be compared to the ending balance of prepaid allowable expenses to determine the accrual adjustment to gross expenses for the change in prepaid allowable expenses.

- (1)(a) When an insured's prepaid allowable farm supply expenses increase, cash basis allowable expenses will be decreased by the increase in prepaid allowable farm supply expenses.

(1)(b) When an insured's prepaid allowable farm supply expenses decrease, cash basis allowable expenses will be increased by the decrease in prepaid allowable farm supply expenses.

B(2) Operating Accounts Payable for Allowable Expenses

The beginning balance of accounts payable for allowable expenses will be compared to the ending balance of accounts payable for allowable expenses to determine the accrual adjustment to allowable expenses determined on a cash basis.

(2)(a) When a insured's accounts payable for allowable expenses increase, cash expenses will be increased by the increase in accounts payable.

(2)(b) When a insured's accounts payable for allowable expenses decrease, cash expenses will be decreased by the decrease in accounts payable.

B(3) Table 2 - Example of Accrual Adjustments to Expenses

Table 2 illustrates an example of an accrual adjustment to allowable expenses. Assume an insured had the following balances:

	The Cash Basis Allowable Expense is	$100,000.
Beginning:	Prepaid Farm Supply Expenses	$9,000
	Operating Accounts Payable	$5,000
Ending:	Prepaid Farm Supply Expenses	$8,000
	Operating Accounts Payable	$6,500

TABLE 2

(1) Accrual Adjustments to Allowable Expenses	(2) Beginning Value	(3) Ending Value	(4) Accrual Expense Adjustment
Prepaid Farm Supply Expenses	$9,000	$8,000	{{(2) - (3)} $1,000
Operating Accounts Payable for Allowable Expense	$5,000	$6,500	{{(3) - (2)} $1,500
Net Accrual Adjustments to Allowable Expenses			$2,500

In this example the Cash Basis Allowable Expense is $100,000, the net accrual adjustment of $2,500 would be added to the cash basis allowable expenses of $100,000 for a total of $102,500 accrual basis allowable expenses. This total would be compared to the approved expenses to determine any necessary decrease in the approved AGR. If the allowable expenses for the insurance year are less than 70% of the approved expenses, the approved AGR is adjusted before a claim is settled. See Paragraph 26, of the Claim for Indemnity, for the required structural change adjustments.

26C Other Adjustments to IncomeC(1) Fed Production

If the insured feeds all or a portion of a covered agricultural commodity to animals/livestock, this fed production will be accounted for through the sales of the animals/livestock and in the inventory process.

C(2) Deferral of Crop Insurance Proceeds to the next tax year:

(2)(a) If the cash method of accounting is used, the insured can elect to include crop insurance proceeds in income for the tax year following the tax year in which the loss occurred. The insured can make this election if they can show that they would have included the income from the damaged crop/commodity in any tax year following the year the loss occurred. If this election was taken, a statement should have been attached to the tax return in the year the election was made.

(2)(b) If this election was taken, the proceeds will be added to the current year's income since the loss is related to production from the current year's insurance period.

C(3) Drought Sales

(3)(a) If, after December 31, 1996, insureds sell more animals than they normally would in one year because of a drought, flood, or other weather-related condition, they may be able to include the gain from selling the additional animals in the following year's income. To postpone the income all of the following conditions must be met: 1) their principal business is farming; 2) they use the cash method of accounting; 3) they can show that, under their usual business practices, they would not have sold the animals this year except for the weather-related condition; and 4) the weather-related condition resulted in an area being designated as eligible for assistance by the federal government. This type of information would need to be known for prior years also, but the only condition triggering this election before January 1, 1997 was drought. If this election was taken, a statement should have been attached to the return in the year the election was made.

(3)(b) If this election was taken, the proceeds will be added to the current insurance year's income since it is related to the current year's production.

C(4) Other Insurance Coverage

All insurance payments (except for AGR payments) for loss or damage to agricultural commodities covered by the AGR policy will be included as income to count for claims purposes. For example, an insurance payment for multi-peril, hail, or loss of an agricultural commodity that was in storage or transit would be revenue to count.

27 VALUATION GUIDELINES27A Inventory Valuation

For claim purposes, use the ending inventory balances of agricultural commodities produced during the insurance year in units of measure as marketed. Refer to the LAM to determine the quantity of farm-stored production.

- A(1) Inventory Valuation for Animals, commodities held for more than one insurance year to realize a gain in maturity/size (e.g., trees, bushes, etc.), and other commodities purchased for resale.

Beginning inventories will be valued at the local market value on January 1 of the insurance year if a calendar year filer, or the first day of the month in which the fiscal tax year begins if a fiscal year filer.

Ending inventories will be valued at the local market value on December 31 of the insurance year if a calendar year filer, or the last day of the month in which the fiscal tax year ends if a fiscal year filer. Both are reduced by the cost of the commodities in inventory.

- A(2) Inventory Valuation for Commodities Not Included in Paragraph A(1)

Beginning and ending inventories will be valued at the actual price received, if sold prior to the time the claim is finalized; or, the local market value on the first day of the month in which the claim is finalized, if not sold prior to the time the claim is finalized.

27B Accounts Receivable Valuation

Accounts receivable will be valued at the dollar amount due to the insured. Accounts receivable includes values of inventories under contract with a buyer at a specified price. If the insured cannot determine the sales value, it should be included as an inventory item. For example, if the insured sold and delivered an agricultural commodity to a processor for an agreed upon price but had not received payment, it should be considered an accounts receivable. However, if the price had not been agreed upon, it should be included in inventory and valued accordingly.

- B(1) Beginning Accounts Receivable Valuation

The beginning accounts receivable will be valued on the first day of the tax year.

- B(2) Ending Accounts Receivable Valuation

The ending accounts receivable will be valued on the last day of the year.

27C Prepaid Allowable Farm Supply Expenses

The prepaid allowable farm supply expenses will be valued at cost.

27D Accounts Payable for Allowable Expenses

The accounts payable for allowable expenses will be valued at cost.

28 CLAIM FOR INDEMNITY28A Adjustments for Change in Farming Operation

A structural change of the insured's farming operation involves changes in ownership, business structure, size of operation, share, management practices, type of farming activity, accounting methods or any other practices that alters farm income compared to the historic average.

A(1) Structural Change Within the Insurance Year

The effect of any changes to the Farm Report (within the insurance year) that affect the approved AGR must be substantiated at the time a claim is filed. The approved expenses will be used to determine the percentage of decrease in allowable expenses. If the allowable expenses for the insurance year decrease by 30% or more when compared to the approved expenses, the insured's farm operation will be considered to have undergone a significant change and adjustments to the approved AGR are required.

A(2) Structural Changes Prior to the Current Insurance Year

These changes should be reflected on the Annual Farm Report as a change in the total expected income for the current insurance year. The approved AGR may decrease when compared to the average allowable income or the approved AGR may be indexed for expanding farming operations with upward trends in allowable income that are greater than the average allowable income. See Part 2, Section 19B for determining the indexed Approved AGR.

A(3) If Damage Occurred the Previous Insurance Year

(3)(a) For carryover insureds, insurance is provided against loss of revenue due to any unavoidable natural disaster that occurs during the current or previous insurance year. For covered commodities damaged or destroyed the previous insurance year, good farming and management practices must have been followed to replace (or replant) commodities and/or repair facilities (if applicable) for the current year for coverage to continue for such commodities. If such good farming and management practices have been carried out and the current year's revenue will be reduced due to an unavoidable natural disaster that occurred the previous insurance year, insureds may report the amount of revenue expected prior to such damage on the current year's Intended Commodity Report. However, the revenue lost due to such damage will not be covered the following insurance year and the expected income must be reduced accordingly.

(3)(b) For new insureds, insurance is not provided against any loss of revenue that occurred earlier than 10 days after the properly completed application was received by the insurance provider. Expected income for the current insurance year must be reduced to reflect any loss of revenue occurring prior to coverage beginning.

28B An indemnity payment may be made after the current year's income tax return has been filed with the IRS. The insured must submit a claim for indemnity declaring the amount of loss not later than 60 days after filing the income tax forms for the insurance year. However the insurance provider will not pay the insured an indemnity if the insured does not file income tax forms by the first day of the seventh month after the end of the insurance year. The insured must notify the insurance provider in writing of any changes (such as IRS audits or adjustments) made to the information provided to the IRS on the tax returns. If the change(s) affect the approved AGR or revenue to count for the insurance year by more than five percent, the approved AGR/AGR database and/or claim must be corrected.

- B(1) For individuals and partners, a copy of the Schedule F and Form 1040 for the current year must be submitted to the insurance provider before a payment can be made.
- B(2) Corporations must submit a copy of the applicable of Form 1120, 1120-A, or 1120S and if a Schedule F was not filed with IRS, a substitute Schedule F form for the insurance year.
- B(3) Claims for indemnity will be calculated on an accrual basis. For insureds reporting farming income to IRS on a cash basis, the cash basis must be converted to an accrual basis for the loss year.

28C Claim For Indemnity Calculation

- C(1) In the event of loss of revenue, the claim for indemnity will be calculated by the insurance provider. The insurance provider must have the following information prior to finalizing the claim.
 - (1)(a) Approved adjusted gross revenue (see Section 19)
 - (1)(b) Approved expenses
 - (1)(c) Allowable expenses for the insurance year
 - (1)(d) Revenue to count for the insurance year
 - (1)(e) Coverage level percentage
 - (1)(f) Payment rate percentage
- C(2) The claim for indemnity will be calculated as follows:
 - (2)(a) Divide the insured's allowable expenses for the insurance year (Part 1, Section 6, Definitions) by the approved expenses to determine the Expense Reduction Percentage. Reduce the insured's approved AGR by 0.1 percent for each 0.1 percent that the insured's allowable expenses for the insurance year fall below 70.0 percent of the insured's approved expenses.
 - (2)(b) Multiply the insured's approved AGR (adjusted as shown in 28C(2)(a)) by the coverage level percentage the insured elected;
 - (2)(c) Subtract the insureds revenue to count for the insurance year from the result of (C)(2)(b); and
 - (2)(d) Multiply the result of (2)(c) by the payment rate percentage the insured elected.

- C(3) If the insured has the 65/75 amount of insurance, multiply the approved AGR (adjusted for expenses if necessary) times the coverage level percentage (.65). Subtract from this result the insured's revenue to count for the insurance year. Next multiply this result times the payment rate percentage (.75). The result is the indemnity.

EXAMPLE

The Insured had approved expenses of $100,000, allowable expenses for the insurance year of $68,000, and an approved AGR of $130,000. The insured's revenue to count is $25,000 and the insured purchased 65/75 coverage. The indemnity would be calculated as follows:

- 28C(2)(a) $$68,000 \div $100,000 = 68.0$ percent or 2.0 percent less than 70.0 percent. Therefore the approved AGR is reduced by 2.0 percent to $127,400;
- 28C(2)(b) $$127,400 \times .65$ (coverage level) = $82,810;
- 28C(2)(c) $$82,810 - 25,000$ revenue to count = $57,810; and
- 28C(2)(d) $$57,810 \times .75$ (payment rate percent) = $43,358 indemnity.

- C(4) Any reduction in allowable income due to an uninsured cause of loss, including reductions caused by the following will be added to the revenue to count:

- (4)(a) Damage or destruction of agricultural commodities due to uninsured causes; or
- (4)(b) Abandonment.

- C(5) A claim cannot be settled:

- (5)(a) Until the corresponding year's farm tax forms are filed. If the farm tax forms are amended after the claim is settled, the insured must notify their insurance provider and provide a copy of the amended forms. The insurance provider may adjust the amount of any indemnity based on the information contained in the amended form; and
- (5)(b) Until all other insurance indemnities that cover commodities insured under this policy have been finalized.

- 28D Agricultural Commodities as Payment. The insured must not forfeit any agricultural commodity to the insurance provider. The insurance provider will not accept any agricultural commodity as compensation for payments due them.

28E Arbitration

- E(1) If the insured and the insurance provider fail to agree on any factual determination, the disagreement will be resolved in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association. Failure to agree with any factual determination made by FCIC must be resolved through the FCIC appeal provisions published at 7 CFR part 11.
- E(2) No award determined by arbitration or appeal can exceed the amount of liability established or which should have been established under the policy.

28F Access to Insured Farm Business Records and Record Retention.

- F(1) The insurance provider and FCIC reserves the right to examine the insured agricultural operations as often as they reasonably require.
- F(2) For three years after the end of the insurance year, the insured must retain, and provide upon request, complete records of the harvesting, storage, shipment, sale, or other disposition of all the agricultural commodities produced. This requirement also applies to the records used to establish the insured's approved AGR. The insurance provider or FCIC may extend the record retention period beyond three years by notifying the insured of such extension in writing. The insured's failure to keep and maintain such records will, at the insurance provider or FCIC's option, result in:
- (2)(a) Cancellation of the policy;
- (2)(b) Assignment of value to, or quantities of, agricultural commodities; or
- (2)(c) A determination that no indemnity is due.
- F(3) Any person designated by the insurance provider or FCIC will, at any time during the record retention period, have access:
- (3)(a) To any records relating to this insurance at any location where such records may be found or maintained; and
- (3)(b) To the farm.
- F(4) By applying for insurance under the authority of the Act the insured authorizes the insurance provider or FCIC, or any person acting for them, to obtain records relating to the agricultural operation from any person who may have custody of those records including, but not limited to, FSA offices, banks, warehouses, gins, cooperatives, marketing associations, and accountants. The insured must assist in obtaining all records which are requested from third parties.

28G Other Insurance

- G(1) The insured may obtain other insurance issued under the authority of the Act on their share of the any agricultural commodity insured under this policy. Nothing in this paragraph prevents the insured from obtaining other insurance not issued under the Act.
- G(2) Any other policy purchased will be primary and any insurance payment received from another policy for loss or damage to agricultural commodities covered under this policy will be considered to be allowable income.

28H Refund of Overpayment

- H(1) An insured will be required to refund to the insurance provider any payments received under the program that are contrary to this document or the Act as amended from time to time.
- H(2) The insured may be required to pay the insurance provider interest on money required to be repaid. Interest will accrue at the rate of 1.25 percent simple interest per calendar month, or any portion thereof, on any unpaid amount due. Refer to the AGR policy for further information.
- H(3) The insured may be required to pay the insurance provider interest. For premium purposes, interest will begin to accrue on the first day of the month following the premium billing date specified in the Special Provisions of the AGR policy. (Refer to Section 17 of the AGR policy for additional information.)

- 7 Tax Year: Enter the IRS tax years corresponding to the allowable income and allowable expenses for each tax year reported for AGR history purposes. Five tax years are required to document the historic revenue. This is necessary to account for allowable income and expenses in the same manner as producers who file Schedule F's.

- 8 Allowable Income: Enter the allowable income (rounded to the nearest whole dollar) taken from applicable IRS tax records, for each tax year reported.

- 9 Allowable Expenses: Enter the allowable expenses (rounded to the nearest whole dollar) taken from applicable IRS tax records, for each tax year reported.

Examples: cucumbers (fresh market), cucumbers (processing), apples, cabbage, turnip greens, maple syrup, animal products (honey, milk, wool, etc.), animals (hogs; finish, farrow, farrow/finish, etc.), and animals (poultry, game birds, etc.).
- If more than one production cycle/harvest of the agricultural commodity is intended during the insurance year, the acreage, expected production and expected income may be summed on a single line. (e.g., 1st planting is cabbage planted in the fall of 2000 and harvested in the 2001 insurance year, 2nd planting is cabbage planted in February of 2001 and harvested in the spring of 2001). For crops produced in a greenhouse, enter greenhouse. If more than one greenhouse is accounted for on one line, enter the number of greenhouses immediately behind "greenhouse."

For example: 40.0 acres of cucumbers (processing) X 5.5 tons per acre = 220 tons. For commodities purchased for resale (exception: animals whose production is measured by gain in pounds) or commodities for which total expected production (e.g., 100 tons of milk) was reported in Col. 14, carry that amount forward. For animals that are marketed in pounds, multiply the expected gain in pounds per animal times the number of animals.

37 ANIMAL INVENTORY/ACCOUNTING WORKSHEET

If applicable, beginning and ending inventories are necessary to determine revenue to count for an insurance year on an accrual basis. If applicable, a beginning inventory (Part 2 of the Animal Inventory/Accounting Worksheet) must be provided to the insurance provider no later than the last day of the month in which the tax year begins.

An ending inventory (Part 3 of the worksheet) must also be completed if an indemnity is to be claimed. Part 4, calculates the revenue to count for claim purposes using increases or decreases in inventory values during the insurance year, less the cost or the basis for animals purchased. Animals must be grouped according to the type/category corresponding to how they will be marketed. Local market value is determined at the beginning or the insurance year for beginning inventories and for ending inventories at the end of the insurance year for each applicable type/category:

If animals are marketed in pounds, gross inventory values will be determined by multiplying the number of animals X the average lbs. per animal for the type/category X applicable value/price per lb.

For animals sold individually (by the head/animal) inventory values will be measured by multiplying the number of animals/livestock X the average value/price per animal for the type/category.

For animals being depreciated, inventory values are the amount paid less the depreciation allowed on previous years' and the current year's tax form.

Complete the beginning inventory for each applicable type/category of animals on hand at the beginning of the insurance year. Complete the ending inventory for animals/livestock on hand at the end of the insurance year. Include animals/livestock from which income is accounted for as gains or losses on Schedule D (Form 1040), Form 4797 (animals held for breeding, dairy purposes, or not held primarily for sale), or is depreciated on Form 4562. Complete each applicable column or item by entering:
